[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 4.—One hundred thousand citizens of Memphis and vicinity today welcomed President Roosevelt to the Deep Waterways Convention. He said as much in words and more in action, for he made no effort to conceal his pleasure. From the time the steamboat Mississippi bearing the distinguished guest came into sight of the city until the president had concluded his address before the waterways convention he received a continual ovation. His route to and from the Auditorium was through an ocean of human faces and the vast throngs stretched out into the side streets as far as the eye could see. The landing was at the foot of Union avenue, from which point the procession made its way through Jefferson avenue, Main street, Beale avenue and other leading thoroughfares to the auditorium.

All idea of confining the delighted people to the curbsides was abandoned before the presidential party landed, and as it proceeded through the streets in vehicles the acclamations multitude touched the very wheels of the carriages and good-naturedly showed for room in which to raise and wave flags and other emblems of a national nature. The picturesqueness of the scene was enhanced by the thousands of flags, banners and other decorative designs which lined the route of travel.

Arriving at the auditorium the president found awaiting him there an assemblage the like of which has seldom been seen before in this part of the country. In every sense of the word the gathering was truly representative of all of those states that are directly or indirectly interested in the project of a deep waterway from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. Included among those present were the governors of a score of commonwealths, almost a sufficient number of members of congress to constitute a quorum, and hundreds of bankers, manufacturers, transportation officials and other representatives of the business interests of the middle west and south. The great auditorium, spacious though it is, was taxed to accommodate the crowd that sought admittance.

TALK OF A FAIR NOW PREVALENT

BUSINESS MEN DISCUSS THE POSSIBILITIES OF THE PROJECT.

MEETING SOON TO BE HELD

Idea of Holding A Home Coming at the Same Time Appeals To Many Talked With.

It is probable that the talk of a fair to be held in Janesville next September in connection with a monster Home Coming will prove something more than mere talk. The idea appeals to the leading merchants of the city and it is thought that the affair can be handled in such a way that it will be of great benefit to the city and at the same time firmly establish the fair for future years.

Home Coming Feature.
The Home Coming feature appeals to the people generally. It is believed the location of the fair will be of great benefit to the city as a whole and would bring back many former residents for a week's visit to old scenes. At the same time enough attractions can be given that will bring visitors from all parts of southern Wisconsin and Janesville's reputation for entertaining and handling crowds is so well established that all would be assured a good time.

The Fair Grounds.
It would take several thousand dollars to put the fair grounds in shape for use for fair purposes. The replacing of the stalls and cow stables would have to be done, the fence rebuilt and repaired, the grand stand raised and a large room made underneath and the old small water pipes replaced by ones large enough to guarantee fire protection as give ample supply of water. The tract would have to be repaired and other improvements made of this nature. However this could all be accomplished at a comparative small cost and would be permanent.

Summer Program.
The trotting meet held on Wednesday demonstrates that the people of Janesville, Edgerton and Beloit are all interested in fast horses and good matinee races. Judiciously handled during the summer months would be a source of revenue and even circuses accommodated on the grounds, the rental for which would go to swell the coffers of the association. The Spring Brook property will probably be soon built up and even now the circuses are forced to go beyond the car line to find enough space to pitch their tents.

Make It County Affair.
While not taking the name Rock County Fair, the Janesville fair could be made a county affair. Its board of directors could be named from prominent men in each township of the county and it could be handled in a business like manner by the business men. The old Mid-Winter fair was a source of revenue to the merchants as it brought many outsiders into the city at a time when business was dull. The Janesville Trotting and Fair association could do this and more.

Are Interested.
Since the publication of the announcement of the plans on Wednesday several prominent business men have interested themselves in the matter and discussed ways and means. It is the consensus of opinion that a fair in connection with a Home Coming could be made a success and that plans should be perfected, at once so that a lease of the grounds could be obtained and preliminary work of booming the project be commenced.

SMALL BOY MISSING FROM FULLERTON'S

Lad Leaves Home Yesterday and Has Been Unheard From Since—Police
Looking For Him.

What has become of Joe Jesky, a thirteen year old lad who has been making his home with John Fullerton and family, living on Beloit road, for the past year, is troubling the police and members of the family. Joseph disappeared yesterday and no trace has been had of him since. He came here a year ago from a Catholic Orphan's school in Milwaukee to make his home with the Fullerton family. It is conjectured by some that a tramp, who slept in the barn on the place night before last, may have enticed the boy run away with him and try cross the journeying for awhile. The lad was barefooted when last seen.

THE COAL MAN GETS THE MONEY

no matter whatever kind of fuel you use. After you buy it, you want to get all the heat out of it there is in it if you can. It stands to reason therefore that a stove that is well and substantially made and fitted; that will heat up to heat the house when you want plenty of warmth—that will hold the fire low if desired—that will do its work just as you want it to—is the stove that is most profitable for you to buy.

"A H. L. McNAMARA, YOU'VE BEEN TRYING FOR 36 YEARS TO GET INTO THE ROUND OAK STOVE BUT YOU NEVER WILL DO IT."

The genuine ROUND OAK; is that stove. It is the stove with a good character, with a great reputation for economy, durability and heat-giving. It possesses just the things you should be looking for in a stove, and there is no guesswork about it. Every person who owns a ROUND OAK will testify to the truth of what we say. Give us the opportunity to set forth the reasons why it excels all other heating stoves and we will "make good."

There are imitations—poor things—be sure and see the name "ROUND OAK" on the leg and door.

OIL FOR RAILWAYS JUGGLED BY TRUST

PRICES CHARGED BY GALENA COMPANY NOT UNIFORM.

REFUND OVER MAXIMUM

Pennsylvania Road Bought Lubricating Oil at Less Than Cost—Rogers Wouldn't Use His Own Product.

New York, Oct. 4.—That the Galena Signal Oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, controls 97 per cent. of the lubricating oil business with the railroads of the United States and that the prices for its products are not uniform with all railroads was written in the record of Thursday's hearing of the federal suit against the so-called oil trust.

C. C. Steinbrenner, an accountant for the Galena company, told in detail how contracts were made with railroads whereby they were guaranteed a maximum cost for the lubrication of the road, based on mileage for engines and cars, and when the maximum cost was found at the end of certain periods to fall short of the standard invoice which all railroads paid when they received the oil, the Galena company made a refund of the difference.

Not the Same to All Roads.

From statements compiled from the Galena company books, Mr. Kellogg was able to show that in some cases the amount of the refund was nearly 50 per cent. of the invoice price. Mr. Steinbrenner testified that the lubricating oil furnished to the Pennsylvania railway was sold at a loss. The Galena company fixed the standard invoice price of valve oil for engines last year at 48 cents a gallon and Mr. Kellogg drew from the witness that the Pennsylvania railway, after the refund was deducted, obtained its oil for 24 cents. Mr. Steinbrenner testified that the New York Central, Union Pacific, Delaware & Hudson and Southern railroads paid 48 cents a gallon, or the full invoice price, without refund. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad paid 38 cents a gallon, while the Toledo, Peoria & Western obtained its oil for 26 cents. Mr. Steinbrenner said that the fixing of the minimum cost of lubrication to a railroad was a matter of hard bargaining.

Rogers Didn't Use It Oil.

A letter written by President Miller of the Galena company in 1905 to Vice President Marony, of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern railroad, and placed in evidence Thursday, stated that the Galena company was supplying 37½ per cent. of the total lubrication of the United States, Canada and Mexico. One of the railroads that the Galena company did not supply with oil, Mr. Steinbrenner said, was the Tidewater railway, owned by Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company. The witness said the Galena company had tried to obtain the contract with the Tidewater railway, but failed. Mr. Kellogg suggested that perhaps Mr. Rogers thought he could get better oil elsewhere.

TRAMP DID NOT BURN BOY.

Story Told by Mrs. Hathaway of Oquawka Is Proved False.

Burlington, Ia., Oct. 4.—It is now believed that the story told by Mrs. John Hathaway Wednesday that a tramp had burned her son to death because she had refused to give the tramp food is untrue. The Hathaways lived near Oquawka, Ill., and the woman's story had produced intense excitement in that neighborhood.

The coroner's investigation developed that Mrs. Hathaway had left her children alone while she went to a neighbor's, and it is thought that during her absence the boy set fire to his clothing while playing with matches. The officials at Oquawka believe that Mrs. Hathaway invented the tramp story in order to placate her husband. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death and Frank Williams, a negro arrested at Monmouth on suspicion of being implicated in the alleged crime, was released late in the afternoon.

HAS KILLED FOURTEEN MEN.

Startling Statement by Tennesseean on Trial for Murder.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 4.—D. D. Edwards, on trial for the murder of Sam Brooks, a negro, made a startling statement under cross-examination Thursday. He was asked by the attorney general if he had killed any one previous to the killing of Brooks. "I have shot and probably killed 14 men in my time," said Edwards. He said that a majority of the killings occurred in the Kentucky mountains and during the labor strike in Chicago.

DOUBLE MURDER IN INDIANA.

Farmer and His Son Slain by Man from Indianapolis.

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 4.—The home of Walter McClintock, an aged farmer, five miles northeast of this city, was the scene of a double murder Thursday night. McClintock and his son Enoch both meeting death at the hands of James Hensley, 30 years old, of Indianapolis.

Hensley, who has been separated from his wife for several years, had been paying attention to Miss Mary McClintock, daughter of Walter McClintock, and had called at the farmhouse to see her when he met her brother Enoch and the two became engaged in a quarrel, Hensley drawing a revolver and shooting the young man, killing him instantly. The father, according to Hensley's story, attacked him with a knife whereupon Hensley shot and killed him.

QUIGG DESTROYED CHECKS.

Names of Recipients Not Revealed in Gotham Inquiry.

New York, Oct. 4.—That he deliberately destroyed checks for $13,578 so that he would not be compelled to say to whom the money represented by them was paid, was admitted by Lemuel Ely Quigg at the hearing on street railway merger matters before the public utilities commission Thursday.

"My memory is faulty. I should not like to attempt it," he replied when Attorney Evans, who is conducting the investigation, asked him if he could tell to whom the checks were drawn. Secretary D. C. Moorehead, of the Metropolitan company, stated on the stand that he had been unable to locate the checks charged to the "special construction account" and that he was certain they must have been destroyed.

MERCHANTS DESIRE NO WAR

TOKIO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE APPEALS FOR PEACE.

Letter to New York Chamber Deploring Talk of Hostilities Because of "Frisco Riots Received."

New York, Oct. 4.—A letter from the Tokio chamber of commerce appealing to the New York chamber of commerce to do all in its power to prevent a breach in the relations between the United States and Japan over the San Francisco incident, and the reply of the New York organization, expressing confidence that "wholesome public sentiment will assert itself in the locality where those incidents occurred," were made public at Thursday's meeting of the New York chamber.

The letter from Tokio, which was signed not only by the Tokio chamber but also by the presidents of four other Japanese chambers of commerce, after briefly referring to the trouble in San Francisco said:

"Should the progress of the trade and commerce between the two nations be at any time obstructed as the result of unwarrantable action of a small local population, the loss to be sustained by the two countries would be incalculable. For these reasons, the undersigned, representatives of the chambers of commerce, venture to address this letter to you to express our views on the situation, in a confident hope that these views will be shared by you and that you will, by considering this matter in the light of the principles of international intercourse and in view of the mutual advantages of our trade relations, make best efforts to speedily eliminate the present causes of discord and insure our common prosperity for the future."

Danderine

Grew Miss Carroll's Hair AND WE CAN PROVE IT!

BEAUTIFUL HAIR

—AT— Small Cost

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been searching for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before a remedy can be created. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Dr. Knowlton's DANDERINE has a most curious effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every Drug and Toilet Store in the land. Three sizes,

THE CLASS RUSH.

Just what brand of higher education the "class rush" belongs to, is not clearly understood, but it seems to be an important feature. It breaks out like an epidemic, once a year, and while short lived, assumes various types of lunacy.

At Lawrence university, in Appleton, it found expression in rotten eggs thrown into the chapel. One of these choice missiles landed in the lap of a young lady, much to her annoyance, while another demoralized the general appearance and harmony of the piano.

President Plantz found it necessary to suspend the perpetrators, and much commotion and indignation prevailed among the student contingent because of interference in a brand of education known as the "class rush."

At Madison, water was substituted for eggs and some fifty young men were treated to a bath in the lake, much against their wishes, other depredations were committed and four boys found themselves behind the bars facing expulsion from the university.

There has evidently been a mistake made at both Lawrence and the State University. The class rush is as much a part of the program as any other feature. It should be duly announced in catalogues, and the boys protected in any device that cultured minds and willing hands are capable of suggesting and carrying out.

The young lady who objects to entertaining a rotten egg, on occasion, or the piano not built for emergencies of this kind, has no place in our higher institution of learning and the boy who objects to a bath whether he needs it or not, lacks the spirit of independent manhood, so necessary to success.

Let the "class rush" continue until the stock of eggs is exhausted and the water supply gives out.

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

No American, except President Roosevelt, is so much in the public eye as Secretary of War William H. Taft. While out of the country and some miles from home, the people are in close touch with him, and he is growing popular every day. The question is often asked, "why did Secretary Taft leave home in the initial days of a presidential campaign in which he was personally interested, as a leading candidate?" The best answer comes from the man himself and is reported in an interview with the staff correspondent of Collier's Weekly, Robert Lee Dunn, who is a member of the party. Mr. Taft said:

"I am going out there in the early autumn. The first National Assembly was elected on July 30th. I shall be present at its opening session in October. I expect that most of the members will demand immediate independence, so they may set up a government of their own. But it is the policy of this government to go more gradually, granting additional privileges and political liberties only as the people demonstrate themselves capable of receiving them.

"We believe that to turn the islands over to a government of natives at present, without check or restraint, would not be best for the people themselves. There would be too great danger of excesses and chaos. The Filipinos are a susceptible and easily influenced people. A man of some education and spirit can quickly stir up a village or a district and lead it into revolt.

"I regret that our army cannot be withdrawn yet. It still is necessary to keep a considerable force there—12,000 men at present—to insure peace and security."

"How much of an advance toward independence is this new National Assembly?"

"It is but the beginning of representative national government. The members, seventy in number, are to be elected by the qualified voters of the Christian provinces. They will have the right of debate, of proposing and passing laws. But there still remains above them the Philippine Commission, appointed by the President, which retains the right of veto over any of the Assembly's acts.

"The Commission, consisting of five Americans and three native members, constitutes practically an Upper House.

"Will the Philippines ever become a free and independent nation?"

"It is possible they may," replied the Secretary. "Yet should the time and opportunity come, I doubt whether the people would desire to cut itself from this country. They probably would find it far more to their prosperity, their happiness and their well-being to remain attached to the United States, with our markets open to them, with the advantages of protection, of support, of backing that a great nation can give to a smaller one. Porto Rico thrives under American rule and is happy. Cuba voluntarily again has sought our assistance.

"We desire to enlarge steadily the powers of self-government in the Philippines. We want the islands to develop, to enjoy prosperity and the people to become able to conduct their own affairs."

If anybody can face odds and gain his way against our newly acquired Americans, it is Secretary Taft. He is practically the "Little Father" of the Philippines. The natives worship him, not only in his official position as extra Heavy Sifter-on-the-Lid, but as a jovial, kind-hearted, clear-eyed friend and companion.

This is the man who places loyalty to duty above everything else. He is the recognized father of the little Philippine, and assumes the responsibility without egotism. That he will be the next president is a safe prediction.

A union of Baptist and congregational churches is under discussion at the Congregational synod now in session at Oshkosh. The Rev. Vaughn of this city, pastor of the Baptist church, was the first man to come out in the open in favor of the movement. His plan included Methodist and Presbyterian churches in the smaller towns. The movement is practical and should be encouraged.

The road now being built under government supervision near Clinton, was inspected by Aldermen Merrill and Buchholz, last Wednesday. They say that if the tax payers of the county could watch the work in process, that the question of street and road building would solve itself. There is only one way to do a thing, and that is to do it right. The new road at Clinton is built right.

The International Paper Company, controlling 50 per cent of the paper mills of the east, and using a capital of $50,000,000, claim that it made less than half a million dollars last year. The claim is made by all paper manufacturers that advanced prices are legitimate, and in no way influenced by combines.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, who has been on trial for complicity in land frauds, was cleared of the charge by unanimous vote of the jury, as soon as the case was submitted. His personal friends were wild with enthusiasm and there is general rejoicing throughout the country.

It's rather late in the day to tarnish the memory of George Washington, by branding him as a tax dodger in 1776. That was a long time ago and musty records might better remain undisturbed. There is plenty of fresh milk to take without disturbing the ancient deal.

The primary law of Illinois is found to be unconstitutional and is doubtful if the state tries another experiment. The law in Wisconsin is a farce and will be repealed when the Badger state recovers from its reform epidemic.

Taft in Japan, attending strictly to government business, and affairs of state overshadow his rivals for the presidency in 1908. With Roosevelt as an impossibility, Taft is the first choice of the people both east and west.

Mr. Taft is still in Japan and is still making the little Jap look with wonder and admiration as his size and magnitude. It was a clever idea to send him over just because of his size.

It will soon be time to begin that Harry Thaw trial all over and have Evelyn Nesbit Thaw again tell her disgusting story in detail on the witness stand.

Roosevelt appears to have made a triumphal march by land and sea through the great Mississippi Valley.

Chicago is looking for the man higher up in its gambling war.

So Roosevelt did not win that tennis match with the Bishop of London after all?

MR. ROOT HIGHLY HONORED IN MEXICO

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES CONVENED ESPECIALLY FOR HIM.

HIS SPEECH TO SOLONS

Secretary is Made Member of Academy of Jurisprudence and is Given a Great Banquet by the Municipality.

Mexico City, Oct. 4.—Secretary of State Elihu Root was the recipient Thursday of the highest honors which can be granted to a foreign visitor at the City of Mexico. He was invited to be present at a special meeting of the chamber of deputies, convened especially to show the appreciation of the lawmakers of this republic for the distinguished guest of the nation, and in the evening a ball was given at the Jockey club.

When Mr. Root visited the chamber of deputies, the legislative body which corresponds to the United States house of representatives, the entire membership of the house was present and the enthusiasm which greeted the speech of Mr. Root was boundless.

Secretary Root's Speech.

After routine business was transacted, the president of the council, Senator Emanuel Calles, delivered a speech welcoming Mr. Root in the name of the legislature of Mexico. Mr. Root, in reply, said in part:

"Mr. President and Members of the Chamber of Deputies of the United States of Mexico, I am doubly sensible of the high honor which you have conferred upon me by this audience today. I am sensible also of the great mark of friendship to my country involved in this reception of one of her officers in this distinguished manner by the popular lawmaking body of this great republic. I sincerely hope not merely that I personally may never do ought to show myself to have been unworthy of your consideration, but that my country may forever, in its attitude and conduct towards the people of Mexico, justify your kindness. You will have gathered from my words which your president has been good enough to quote in the admirable and grateful address which he has just made, that I am one of those who believe that the old days when nations sought to enrich themselves by taking away the wealth of others by force, ought to pass and are passing."

Made Member of Academy.

Immediately after the session, in the chamber of deputies, Mr. Root was whisked to the building of the Mexican academy of jurisprudence and legislation, where another honor was to be conferred on him, that of membership in that body.

After this ceremony was over, Mr. Root had just time to drive to the castle of Chapultepec to prepare for the banquet tendered to him by the City of Mexico at the municipal palace. This affair was one of the most brilliant events of the series of entertainments in honor of Secretary Root.

Former Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Loomis arrived in this city Thursday and called on Secretary Root at Chapultepec palace. Mr. Loomis was invited to tour the city with the Root party.

Shreveport Man Found Murdered.

Shreveport, La., Oct. 4.—The dead and mutilated body of George Hanson, aged 26, vice president of the Caucasian Printing company of this city, was found Thursday under a band stand on Douglas Island. He had been killed with a heavy railroad wrench. His watch and money were gone.

Shipwrecked Crew All Saved.

Kilrush, Ireland, Oct. 4.—The last batch of the crew of the Leon XIII, were brought safely ashore late Thursday evening. They included the captain, who suffered a broken leg as a result of being felled by a heavy sea soon after the vessel struck. The entire crew have thus been saved.

Wouldn't Need It.

"Here's a photograph," Dubliner said, "That I'll sell for a song, on the dead; The reason I sell it is I hate to tell it; But the fact is, I'm going to be wed!" —Cleveland Leader.

Explicit Enough. "Driver," said an English tourist, who was being driven on a jaunting car through the Donegal highlands, "I notice that when you speak to your friends whom you meet on the road you invariably do so in Irish, but when you address your horse you do so in English. How is this?" To which came the retort: "Musha, now this, isn't English good enough for him?" —New York Tribune.

Read in Many Languages.

The library of the late Prof. York Powell shows that he had an amazing range as a reader. Works in Persian, Pali, Sanskrit, Hebrew, Hindi, Syriac, Esdimo, Rumanian, Swahili, Polish and Yiddish—some of these being grammars—are on the list, as well as books in all the familiar European languages.

Poor Philadelphia.

A Philadelphia trolley car crashed into a bakery wagon and sent a load of pies through the air. What with germs in the drinking water and pies in the air, Philadelphia must be an unhealthy place, indeed. —Buffalo Express.

The Boy View of It.

Bert and Leslie, hardy sons of impetuous parents, called for their chum Leonard, a tender stripling of wealth, to go fishing. Now, Leonard, having wet his feet and got a headache, could not go, and, as the boys started off without him, Leslie said: "It's better to be poor and tough than rich and tender."

MAKES PEOPLE WONDER

No matter what one's ideas about paint and painting may be whether believing in "nothing so good as lead and oil," or have some mixed paint that one thinks is "the best," here's a little story that may teach something.

Henry Rich of Mazomanie, Wis., was told by his painter that it would need 14 gallons of Devco lead-and-zinc Paint to do a good job on his house.
The painter evidently had lead and oil or some mixed paint in mind.

Mr. Rich bought four gallons of the color he wanted, which was all that J. Lappley, the dealer, had on hand; and wired to the factory for the other ten gallons. When the job was finished, they counted six gallons left over; took them back to the dealer. They're all wondering how it happened.

J. P. Baker tells our paint.

Satan His Favorite.

The mother of a little 4-year-old boy of Tampa is in the commendable habit of telling him Bible stories, of which she has a wide range at command. She was a trifle surprised the other evening when he looked up and said: "Mamma, please tell me some more about Satan. He is the dearest follow of 'em all."—Tampa Times.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Bliss Knapp Lectured Last Night in Opera-house on Healing Ministry of Faith.

With intense interest a far-flung audience, composed of members of the local Christian Science church and many of their friends, listened to a lecture by Bliss Knapp, member of the Christian Science board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, on Christian Science, its Healing Ministry, in the Myers opera-house last night. Potted plants and cut flowers decorated the stage.
M. P. Richardson presided and introduced the speaker whose lecture was in part as follows:

Within the last forty years there has developed a literature which has not only revealed God to countless numbers, but has also healed them, according to their own testimony, of all manner of sin, disease and infirmity. When Mrs. Eddy presented a book to the world, elucidating the Scriptural authority for Christian healing, the champions of medicine opposed this book, because the healing of the sick without the use of drugs seemed to them incredible; the champions of theological religion opposed it, because it threatened the indices of Christian healing had been lost and were supposed to be for Jesus' time only.
Aren't you Christian Science is sending forth men and women by the thousand healed of all manner of sin and disease, and the spread of the movement is marked by magnificent churches crowded at every service with people eager to hear the word of God explained in its science. With such wonderful effects in so short a time, truly there must be a stupendous cause.

Every known religion or philosophy claims to be the promulgation of revealed truth; but whatever may be the nature or quality of such truth, that which differentiates the demonstrable revelation of Jesus Christ from them all is its power to give health and life. Other religions might interest themselves in a man's health or the Adam dream, but "I am come," said Jesus, "that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." His healing, resurrection and final ascension demonstrated this healing element in Christianity.

It is this element of healing which distinguishes Christian Science from the prevailing religions of today. If the healing sometimes overshadows the religion in its appeal to the stranger, it is because he has not looked beyond the cure to seek the cause or explanation; for that which determines the real import of Christian Science is its theology, and by way of application this theology exhibits a system of healing and reformation, necessarily mental and spiritual, which system is based on the inspired word of the Bible. Both the sinner and the disease are healed by the same principle, which proves that the church never should have divorced the healing element from Christianity.
The leading purpose of Christian Science, however, is the destruction of sin, and in this we are all united, against our common enemy. Far from being an ethical philosophy for academic debate, this is a life to be lived,
—a truth to be proved.

The more important points of these teachings are expressed in six tenets, which may be found in the Christian Science text-book, Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker G. Eddy. All those who purpose to join a church of this denomination are required to subscribe their names to these tenets. From them it may be observed that we worship one God, the same God of Moses and all the prophets. And we accept His son, Christ Jesus, as the only Christ and Wayshower. Moreover, we have our religious teachings on the inspired word of the Bible.

Fahr had been showing the Coshocton airship at the Licking county fair and at 4:30 in the afternoon ascended for an exhibition flight. By mistake he threw overboard too much ballast and the big gas bag shot up in the air almost a mile and was caught in such strong currents of air that it became unmanageable. He was driven from Newark almost to Coshocton and alighted safely.

"I'm hungry. Is supper over?" was his salutation to the wondering farmers who saw him alight.

The Lightning Rod Business Has Changed

WHAT YOU THOUGHT ABOUT LIGHTNING RODS MAY BE ALL WRONG.

If your knowledge was gained from the methods of the old-time "sharp-ers" that once infested the business, you're hardly to blame if you look askance at the lightning rod business as a whole, but—

The days of the slick "lightning rod agent" with his oily tongue and his tricky "contracts" are done.

Likewise there's as much difference between the old jointed iron rods and the Janesville Copper Cable Lightning Rod as there is between a stage-coach and a locomotive.

We were told—in the days of the old iron rod—that the rod would "catch" the lightning. It generally did—but it was such a poor conductor that the house caught most of it, and the house with one of these iron rods stood a bigger chance of damage than the house without one.

The Janesville Copper Cable Lightning Rod doesn't "catch" or "attract" the lightning. It is a perfect conductor of electricity, and it carries off the electricity which accumulates in the house as fast as it forms.

That makes it impossible for lightning to strike the house, for lightning never strikes except where the atmosphere is already charged with electricity.

The fact that of thousands and tens of thousands of buildings rodded with the Copper Cable Lightning Rod NOT ONE WAS EVER DAMAGED BY LIGHTNING is pretty good proof that they protect.

And as to contracts, we ask none. We will rod your buildings and give you six months or a year's time; and we guarantee to refund the price of the rod if lightning damages any building equipped with it.

Is that fair?
